Helping Revitalize an Old Mill Town

FHLBank Boston was an integral partner in making possible the revitalization and adaptive reuse of two 100-year-old historic buildings in the center of a small historic mill town in south central Connecticut. The blighted buildings were restored and converted to ground-floor retail stores with 12 units of affordable senior housing above. The project preserved two historic buildings while providing much-needed housing and economic stimulus in revitalizing the downtown center of the old mill town.
